MESSAGE FROM IFBB PRESIDENT
DR. RAFAEL SANTONJA

DEAR FRIENDS IN SPORT:

You get in your hands the new IFBB book of the Year 2019/2020, a difficult period, with the Covid-19 pandemic affecting the entire world, bringing a lot of sorrow, human loses and uncertainties, and, definitely, changing our lives, our way to socialize, the way of education, the way we work and the global economy.

The world of sport has been also, drastically affected by these terrible circumstances.

In this situation, we must follow the applicable national and international regulations and the advice from governments and sanitary authorities.

All this has to be done with positive energy and best spirit, maintaining our focus on the fact that any epidemiical situation has expansion, stabilization and reduction periods, and that with adequate care, it will come to an end soon or later.

With all this in mind, we decided to follow with the organization of some key events, following always the decisions from the competent authorities, and having as first priority the aplicación of best health protocols, to grant the integrity of athletes, officials and fans, celebrating with them in safe environments our passion for sport and healthy lifestyle.

The IFBB Book of the Year is already a traditional product published in a yearly basis, compiling all the most significant IFBB activities and events from each year. This year due to the whole situation the IFBB Calendar of Activities started later, but, in the meantime, it has been a year fulfilled of interesting meetings, new achievements and successful events.

I am sure that you will enjoy it and that this book will be part of your personal library, as a collector issue that, along the years, will keep refreshing your memories on the IFBB history.

BODYBUILDING & FITNESS ARE:

- Sports
- Successful complimentary training for other sports
- Healthy lifestyle at all ages

As sport, the IFBB organizes more than 8,000 competitions worldwide in a regular year, in which athletes from very young ages in children fitness categories to our master bodybuilding champions, represent the maximum expectation of human physical muscular development in healthy harmony.

As complementary training for other sports, helps the athletes to become stronger, optimizing muscular density at the ideal performance body weight, to achieve his/her maximum potential.

Regardless age, sex, and previous physical condition, bodybuilding training and nutrition can help individuals to achieve stronger, balanced bodies with a proper control of body fat and in good health.

Bodybuilding and fitness weight training and nutrition techniques are great allies of physiologists, physiotherapists and the medical community to prevent and recover from injuries, accidents and maintain the muscular body functions in better condition for longer time.

Bodybuilding and fitness are excellent support for anti-aging. In fact, the aging process is expressed physically by the progressive deterioration of lean body mass, and it is represented by the progressive loss of muscles with increase of fat and connective tissues, what brings the ultimate musculoskeletal and physical deterioration.

Numerous scientific research already proved the great efficiency of fitness training and nutrition to prevent and / or reverse this process. Recent studies have even shown that strength training can cause functional reversal of aging at the molecular level, “repairing” very poorly functioning genes of elder people. Nothing else in human history has shown the similar effect! The best visual example of it, are our athletes over 60 and plus years old, and their healthy muscular bodies.

The IFBB is very conscious of all these capacities of our sport, and includes in its board a Scientific and Research Commission, working with scientific and university institutions worldwide in elaboration of reports, participation in symposiums and congresses, and promoting antiaging fitness lifestyle in the society.

The IFBB is pleased to be active in all these areas in the strong believe that physical health is a great contribution from sport to society.

Looking forward for the full and global recovery, and the ending of this tough times, to celebrate together passion for a sport, in health, friendship and Solidarity.

Dr. Rafael Santonja

MEN’S BODYBUILDING
Athletes train to develop all parts of their body and muscles to maximum size but in balance and harmony.
There should be no “weak points” or underdeveloped muscles. Moreover, they should follow a special pre-competition training system, to decrease the bodyfat level as low as possible and remove the underskin water to show the quality of muscles: density, separation and definition.
The competitor who displays more muscle details scores the highest. The other matter to be assessed is the general view of the physique, which should be proportionally built. Broad shoulders and narrow waist, as well as adequately long legs and shorter upper body, are what the judges are looking for.
These qualities are displayed during two physique assessment rounds when competitors do seven mandatory poses during comparisons of three to eight athletes chosen by the judges.
There are three rounds, including one offering athletes the opportunity to show their physique during 60-second free posing to music. Judges will assess each round, giving athletes individual places.

CLASSIC PHYSIQUE
This new concept in our Bodybuilding modalities is a different version of the Classic Bodybuilding. The relationship between height and weight is different, more kilos, and the criteria worths basically in the old, classic look. Even more, the attire is a retro style one, a short with a minimum long at the sides of 15 cms. Bodies must be classic V shape look, well proportionated, more artistic way to pose. The vacuum pose is the key pose in this division, where a tiny waist is very important in the total physique score. This sport division is growing in every contest under IFBB in despite of being born only months ago. Classic Physique want to show again the classic look that in the 60’s and 70’s years in the last century did famous our sport, Bodybuilding. In fact the competition system is doing two news poses; Vacuum pose; famous in the older era of 50’s to 80’s, the reason for this is easy; evoking distended bellies and this movement is specially able to show who is the one with problems in this pose. The vacuum pose is the key pose in this division, where a tiny waist is very important in the total physique score. This sport division is growing in every contest under IFBB in despite of being born only months ago.

MEN’S CLASSIC BODYBUILDING
Classic bodybuilding is a version of the sport based on the classic physique concept.
To create equal chances, the competitors’ bodyweight is limited according to their body height, following a special IFBB formula for each body height category.
Since muscle mass is limited, special attention is paid to the overall view of the physique, body proportions and lines, muscle shape and condition, including density, body fat level, definition and details.
These values are assessed by the judges during rounds one and three. In round two, like in bodybuilding, free posing routines are performed to music of the athletes’ choice.
There are two assessments rounds, with the same rules as in bodybuilding.

WOMEN’S FITNESS
This concept was introduced by the IFBB in the early 90’s, in response to the increasing demand for competitions for women who prefer to develop a less muscular, yet athletic and aesthetically pleasing physique and also to show their physiques in motion. In Women Fitness, the emphasis is placed on a shapely, athletic-looking physique, assessed by comparisons of four quarter turns and athletic ability, assessed during a very attractive and dynamic fitness style routine.
MUSCULAR AND MEN'S PHYSIQUE
In 2012 the muscular and men's physique division was officially launched as a new IFBB sport discipline.

It has proved to be a very popular category so the IFBB has increased the number of men's physique categories from two to six: 170cm, 173cm, 176cm, 179cm, 182cm and over 182cm.

They perform two rounds of quarter turns, wearing board shorts of their choice.
The second and final round begins with a short individual onstage presentation of each competitor.

Judges assess the shape and symmetry of the athletes, as well as their muscles and overall condition.

Competitors' stage presence and personality are also part of the judges' verdict.

WOMEN'S BIKINI FITNESS
This category was introduced in 2011.

Overall body lines, balance and proportions, body tone and healthy appearance are taken into consideration.

The emphasis is on a well-shaped, fit, healthy and attractive appearance, similar to that of models.

Judges look for a well-shaped, fit, healthy and attractive appearance during two rounds, where athletes wear a two-piece bikini and high-heels.

Quarter-turns are performed in each round, with a presentation also giving athletes the chance to display their body whilst moving.

Hard, lean muscles are not considered necessary in the category, which is designed for women who aim to keep their body in shape and eat healthily.

WOMEN'S BODYFITNESS
This concept was introduced by the IFBB in the early 90's, starting as an official competition in 1996 in response to the increasing demand for events for women who prefer to develop a less muscular, yet athletic and aesthetically pleasing physique. It was also designed to show their physiques in motion.

In women's body fitness, the emphasis is placed on a shapely, athletic-looking physique, assessed during a very attractive and dynamic fitness style routine.

Athletes have the possibility to show their figure in a short individual presentation. Two rounds of quarter turns in the bikini-style costume of their own choice and classic stiletto pump of any colour are assessed. The top six competitors then perform individual presentations, before conducting quarter turns as a group.

Overall athletic appearance is judged, with focus on muscle tone and shape, with a small amount of body fat. Hair, make-up and individual style of presentation are also central to the event.

WOMEN'S FIT-MODEL
New IFBB sport, new possibilities, new challenge.

This IFBB new sport discipline is intended to display the beauty of the human body in a bit different way than in already existing divisions. To create this possibility, an additional, new round was added in both men and women categories, combining sport qualities with elegance of moves, gestures and a kind of “showmanship”, wearing non-sport attires. In women's categories it is an evening gown. The Fit-Model competitors must be viewed with the emphasis on a “healthy and balanced” physique, in an attractively presented, impressive “Total Package”. Competitors must demonstrate their grace, poise, elegance and sophistication. The gown will.

In the first three rounds athletes wear a one-piece, tight-fitting swimsuit. This attire was specially selected to enable competitors to have a softer midsection, displaying rather attractive body lines and a bit of personality.

Judges should pay attention to the overall appearance of a competitor, the overall body development and shape, proportionally and symmetrically developed, complete physique, the hair and facial beauty, the athlete’s ability to present herself with confidence, poise and grace and the general impression made by the competitor.

NEW IFBB SPORT, NEW POSSIBILITIES, NEW CHALLENGE.
MIXED PAIRS
Mixed pairs were officially recognised by the IFBB a sport discipline in 1983 as a bodybuilding mixed pairs.
In 2013, however, the IFBB cancelled women’s bodybuilding, so now the mixed pairs category is open for women participating in female physique or female fitness or female body fitness performing with male bodybuilder or male classic bodybuilder.
Men from mixed-pairs perform mandatory poses in the same as in bodybuilding. Women perform these poses in the same style as in women’s physique.
Male competitors wear the same attire as in bodybuilding, while women follow the same dress code as in women’s physique.

WOMEN’S PHYSIQUE
The women’s physique division was introduced at the beginning of 2013 for women who want to prepare for a heavier, bodybuilding-style body but who do not want to be extremely dried, lean and muscular.
Competitors want to remain athletic and aesthetically pleasing.
There are three rounds. In round one - the semi-finals - competitors’ physiques and muscularity are assessed during quarter turns and four compulsory poses.
In the finals compulsory poses and the posedown are performed in round two and a short, 30-second posing routine to music of competitor’s choice in round three.
There are two categories in this division: up to 163cm and over 163cm.

WOMEN’S WELLNESS FITNESS
The wellness fitness division is intended for women who prefer a muscular physique without muscle separation and who wish to be athletic and aesthetically pleasing, with a bigger body mass than in bikini fitness.
Wellness fitness is placed somewhere between bikini fitness and women’s physique.
The assessment of the physique, judging criteria and rounds are the same as women’s bikini fitness. Competitors perform quarter turns in all rounds plus individual “I-walking” presentation in the finals.
Vertical proportions - legs to upper body length - are one of the key factors. Horizontal proportions of hips and waist to shoulder width may favour women with slightly bigger hips, thighs and buttocks.
There are four wellness fitness categories: up to 158cm, up to 163cm; up to 168cm and over 168cm.

WHEELCHAIR BODYBUILDING
The IFBB wanted to create a division to enable male wheelchair users to compete in national and international events, including continental and World Championships.
Athletes train to develop all upper body parts and muscles to maximum size but remaining in balance and harmony, avoiding “weak points” or underdeveloped muscles.
Preparing for a competition, they decrease their body fat level and remove the underskin water to show the quality of muscles; density, separation and definition.
They display muscles during seven mandatory poses as well as the posing routine which lasts 60 seconds. The athletes perform all rounds seated on the wheelchairs, wearing long pants and sport shoes.
Currently, one open category is performed.

94 COUNTRIES GATHER IN THE ARAB EMIRATES (UAE) FOR THE BIGGEST BODYBUILDING COMPETITION BY NATIONS IN HISTORY

The Bodybuilding World Championships was a very important sporting event for the promotion of sports in the Arab Emirates. In the photo: President Santonja and the high authorities of the Emirate of Fujairah during the opening ceremony of the 2019 IFBB World Championships.

The Iranian Federation, represented by its President, Mr. Nasser Pouralifard, renewed its Best Team and overall titles, in addition to claiming 9 gold medals. The 2019 Fujairah Bodybuilding World Championships bests the great success achieved at the 2018 Benidorm World Championships, by maintaining a record 94 participating countries, but exceeding in number of athletes. The 73rd Bodybuilding World Championships was much more than a sporting event: as announced during the opening ceremony on live streaming TV by President Santonja: “the Arab Emirates have understood the importance of sports as a tool to promote education by bringing together people with different ideas, politics and religions, all united by their common passion: Bodybuilding”.

The event was organized by the UAE Federation and its President, H. E. Sheikh Abdullah Bin Hamad Al Sharqi –Vice-President of the Asian Federation AFBF–, and present at the event was the Prince Heir to the Emirate of Fujairah, H.R.H. Mohammed bin Hamad bin Mohammed Al Sharqi, to show the Emirate’s support of the event, that acted as a grand finale to the United Arab Emirates’ “Year of Tolerance”, establishing the country as one of the most stable and safe nations in the world.

Iran renews its Best Team award and takes 9 gold medals, in addition to the overall titles in Bodybuilding and Classic Bodybuilding.

“The event includes, for the first time, the disciplines of Classic Physique and Men’s Physique, in its 7th edition as a World Championships discipline”

“Xi’an (China) will be organizing the 74th edition of the Bodybuilding World Championships in 2020”

“Spain descends to the 17th position on the team ranking, with a more reduced team, but of great quality”

A total of 35 countries took part in a competition that saw Turkey, a federation that has been working steadily and discreetly with their youth, achieve their first Best Team award, thanks to the hard work of their president Kurt Niyazi. 2019 FITNESS WORLD CHAMPIONSHIPS

“Russia reclaims its leadership with a formidable team and returns Ukraine to second position on the ranking”

“Slovakia fulfils its role as a most excellent host and achieves an impressive podium position”

“Spain maintains its recovery and asserts itself in the Fitness World Top Ten, with a team of four fabulous athletes: Anna Sorokina, María Góngora, Lina Bejarano and Lorena Martínez”

The organizer of the Championships and President of the Slovakian Federation, Ing. Boris Mlsna, was awarded the IFBB Medal of Honour to acknowledge his excellent work promoting Fitness internationally.

Slovakia’s Minister for Education, Science and Sports, JUDr. Mgr. Martina Lubyová, was present at the World Championship’s closing ceremony, and was awarded the IFBB Spirit of Sport Award.
On the past 30th of November and 1st of December, all IFBB eyes were set on Bratislava to watch the Mixed Pairs Bodybuilding and Fitness World Championships. After a long season of competitions, the best athletes in the world gathered in Slovakia to resolve the most important title of all, as well as to settle the 2019 World Ranking.

President Santonja was present at the event, which was perfectly organized by the national federation, chaired by Ing. Boris Mlsna, and backed by the Olympic Committee and the Slovakian Ministry for Sports. The Minister for Sports, Martina Lubyova PhD, was present at the closing ceremony and saw the national team win the bronze medal, behind Fitness strongholds Ukraine (silver) and Russia (gold). The latter, as in previous years, ruled the competition.

Gabriela Mlsnova, two times Fitness World Champion and one of today’s biggest promoters of youth Fitness, was awarded the IFBB Gold Medal.

The athletes of the Millennial-generation are steadily taking over this discipline, which is experiencing enormous growth, thanks to all the good work accomplished with teenager athletes in countries such as Slovakia, Hungary and Russia. An extra class had to be added to fit the nearly 40 athletes in this discipline, which was again dominated by Slovakia: 3 gold medals and the overall to Michaela Pavleová.

MEN’S FITNESS:
Michal Barbier (Slovakia)
Possibly history’s most complete athlete, Slovakia’s Michal Barbier renewed his gold medal from 2018 with a spectacular routine filled with rhythm, elasticity, strength, resistance and the odd breathtaking acrobatics. With his aesthetic physique, at only 22 he can write history in this discipline and continue to claim titles in the next decade, if he sets out to do so.

OVERALL FITNESS:
Michaela Pavleova (Slovakia)
Alongside President Santonja and Dr. Boris Misna, young Michaela Pavleova claimed yet another Fitness world title for Slovakia. The country’s growth seems unstoppable.
The athletes competing in the Bodyfitness discipline are becoming more and more muscular, but the judges made it clear that size and being ripped are not the main qualities taken into account. Thus, Alina Yaman renewed her silver from 2018, losing her crown yet again to her fellow countrywoman Yuliia Shykula. The overall champion was Senni Nieminen (Finland), a genetic prodigy who won the Short Class gold, ahead of 2018 champion Olga Lutsenko, who had to make do with silver.

OVERALL BODYFITNESS:
Senni Nieminen (Finland)

At 23 and still a Junior athlete, Senni Nieminen claimed the title after a draw with Tatiana Mandolina, 10 years her senior. Her progress this year has been spectacular.
Without a doubt, the most popular discipline in Fitness sports. All 8 classes needed qualifying rounds, counting over 20 athletes per class and with Russia leading the way with 4 gold medals (5, if we count Russian-born Anna Sorokina, who competes under the Spanish flag). Every class became a challenge for the judges, due to the high level of quality of the performers.

BIKINI FITNESS:
Galina Maslovskaya (Russia)

Galina Maslovskaya claimed a clear victory, as in nearly every competition this season. With her impressive 180 cm, she has no doubt been the best athlete of 2019 – overall European champion – taking up the torch after Russian legends such as Olga Putrova or Natalia Lugovskikh. Her name is already part of Bikini Fitness history and she might become one of the big names in the 2019 Elite Pro circuit.
The third edition of the Wellness discipline saw it growing exponentially: from two categories in 2018 to four in 2019. Three names to remember: Dagmara Dominiczak (Poland), renewing her 2018 gold; Nikoletta Sularz (Poland), No. 1 on the 2018 World Ranking, and, especially, Lara Santini (Croatia), who surprised us all by sweeping the overall title.

2019/2020 BOOK OF THE YEAR

OVERALL WOMEN’S PHYSIQUE

Natalia Bystrova (Russia)

Once again, Viktoria Pohribniak lost the overall title by only 1 point (7 to 8 points), before an athlete of less height but enormous balance between muscle and leannees, as is Natalia Bystrova, who arrived at this World Championships offering her best shape ever.

WOMEN’S PHYSIQUE

Yet another chapter in the rotational duel between Russia and Ukraine: this time around, the title went to Natalia Bystrova (Russia), who reclaimed her 2017 title. Again, a very complete Viktoria Pohribniak (Ukraine) won the gold medal in the Tall Class, but lost the overall title. This disappointment was outweighed by her IFBB World Ranking victory.

MIXED PAIRS BODYBUILDING

Ukraine maintained its leadership and grasped the points necessary for also reaching the second position on the medal rank. Without their 2018 stars, still they renewed their gold and silver medals, and crowned Liubov Popova and Yuri Zymohliad as 2019 champions, whereas the very complete Alina Yaman (again, silver) and the colossal Adam Kozyra analyzed the 2 points that kept them from taking their place on the podium.

A special mention to China’s progress, as their most laureate athlete ever, Shao Zhing Zheng, managed to climb to the 4th position.

BEST TEAM AWARD

Russia, champion of 2017, learned the lesson from 2018 and returned to the World Championships with an impressive team of 53 fabulous athletes eager to recover the Champion’s crown from Ukraine’s 37 performers. They only yielded to their neighbouring rival in Mixed Pairs Bodybuilding and in Women’s Physique, and, thanks to years of hard work, to Slovakia in Fitness. As for the remaining disciplines, Europe’s largest country proved its ability to renew itself.

Spain retained their position within the World Top 10, climbing from 9th in 2018 to 8th position in 2019, after China, but with one striking fact not to be snubbed: China, the new rising force, needed 25 athletes to achieve their 53 points, whereas Spain achieved their 42 points with only 4 athletes. Without a doubt, the team chosen by Rafael Ovejero is the most efficient in the competition, proving Mr. Ovejero’s instinct when it comes to choosing the best athletes at any given time.

Russia, represented by their president, Mr. Alexander Vishnevski, was the winner of the Best Team Award and recovered the World Champion title ahead of Ukraine (silver) and Slovakia (bronze).

Following the success of the 2018 edition, the impressive Conference Centre of Tarragona was once again host to the IFBB World Master Championships (a competition that will be moved to Turkey in 2020), exceeding the previous edition both in numbers of contestants and in showiness. As President Santonja himself declared before nearly 100,000 viewers who were following the event live on streaming on the 7th of 8th December: veteran athletes represent the advantages of Bodybuilding and Fitness disciplines as a healthy lifestyle alternative better than anyone else, and they are a growing collective in a society much in need of role models, as is ours. Through events like this one, the IFBB has become a representative of these role models. With an attendance of over 400 athletes - an absolute record - from over 60 countries from all 5 continents, the IFBB World Master Championships took place in a context of gradual integration into Olympism. Talking strictly sports, the competition featured disciplines Classic Physique and Wellness for the first time around, contributing to consolidate their importance as preferred disciplines among the athletes. Russia dominated through its impressive team of 38 athletes, the largest by numbers, making best team ahead of Spain with its 23 athletes, who gave up their 2018 title and came in second, thus asserting themselves as the best Master team of the decade. Poland, with its 28 athletes, renewed their bronze medal and Italy, with a team of 34 athletes, came in 4th before Germany (26 athletes) and France (33 athletes), to complete the Top 6 of the 2019 IFBB World Master Championships.
With 13 categories brimful of excellent performers – some of them astoundingly impressive, for instance Japan’s Toshisuke Kanazawa, 84 – the overall competition focused on the duel between the youngest and heaviest champions: Sweden’s Keivan Gomanian and Saudi Arabia’s Taysir Al Khalfan. Gomanian, all of his muscle groups complete, claimed the title by only 1 point. Also, a special mention to other champions, such as Gunnar Paasche, impressive at nearly 60, and Austria’s Alexandr Englitsch, third best in the discipline, after Gomanian and Al Khalfan.

Spain did not disappoint in this Division, and nearly swept all the gold medals, had it not been for Japan’s Hidemi Kawamura, who left a very complete Eduardo López second in the +50 class. In the overall competition, Álvaro Ordóñez claimed the title from Javier Pérez Arribas by 2 points.

Japan, the country with the highest longevity rates in the world, has undoubtedly discovered the formula to combining Fitness lifestyle with top-level sports. Their gold threesome in the Men’s Physique discipline was irrefutable. Not only did they win; the athletes themselves were convincing: juvenile bodies, right size and the healthy look that perfectly defines the very spirit of this discipline.

The great favourite, Natalia Bystrova, swept the title hassle-free thanks to the great shape she brought with her from the Bratislava World Championships. Her season has been extraordinary, and only fellow countrywoman Elena Lazareva was able to make her feel uneasy in some side poses.

A showdown featuring mind-blowing genetics, hard work and elegance that made the audience vibrate with all 3 classes of this Division. The level was exceptionally competitive, making the classifying rounds themselves a challenge for the athletes, many of them over 50.

BIKINI FITNESS

Due to the high number of participants, several qualifying rounds very necessary, and entering the Top 10 was a feat in itself. The astonishing performers, aged between 35 and 64, were a shining example of what weight training can accomplish for women. Three stars shone brighter than the rest: Spain’s Ada Jiménez, more impressive by the moment, Estonia’s Jana Teder –who has already claimed overall titles this year- and Russia’s Anna Prokhorova, three times World Champion and, this time, according to the judges, best overall athlete at 48. Her imposing quality and height kept Alicante-based Alla Petrova from reaching the top of the medal rank.

IN A SITUATION in which many sports federations have suspended their 2020 competitions, the IFBB and Santa Susanna remained true to their commitment to athletes and held their European Championships, moving their usual date in May to September 15-20.

Security measures were rigorous and supervised at all times by the IFBB Medical Commission personnel, who prioritized the health of athletes, officials and fans, consolidating the prestige of the “Fitness Capital of the World” as a benchmark for our sports disciplines.

The participating delegations applauded an exemplary organization that carried out temperature controls at the entrances. A 40-meter stage—the largest ever built for Bodybuilding—allowed the maintenance of social distance measures, and a huge backstage provided enough space for the athletes. As a result, we had zero infections during the championships, creating sufficient motivation for the athletes to continue with their preparation and to participate in the following international competitions to be held in the Czech Republic, Luxembourg, Serbia, Romania and so on.

The IFBB Medical Commission chaired by Dr. Alfonso Morán supervised the safety of the participants at all times. In the images, providing sanitizing gel to President Santonja and taking the temperature of the Elite Pro athlete, Deividas Dubinas.

The Mayor of Santa Susanna and IFBB Patron, Mr. Joan Campolier, received the IFBB President’s Gold Medal in recognition of his great work in promoting Santa Susanna as the “Fitness Capital of the World”, throughout 15 years of collaboration with the IFBB.

President Santonja presented the IFBB Spirit of Courage Award to the presidents of the host federations of the World Championships in 2020: Spain (D. José Ramos) and Romania (Prof. Gabriel Toncean).

Flying through various European countries, the athlete Mayya Leonenko represented the Russian Federation in Santa Susanna. In this image, together with President Santonja at the EBFF Congress to which she was invited.

2020 EUROPEAN BODYBUILDING CHAMPIONSHIPS

"Poland beats Spain by 3 points and keeps the hosts form taking the 5th consecutive title."

"Justas Poliakus (Bodybuilding), Tony Martí (Wheelchair Bodybuilding), Yamil Calvo (Classic Bodybuilding), Tautvydas Tumbrotas (Classic Physique) Ales Lamka (Games) and Artem Tkach (Men’s Physique) are the new overall champions."

AFTER FOUR DAYS OF COMPETITION, full of emotional moments in the finals and the awards ceremonies, Spain passed its European champion crown achieved in 2016 and maintained until 2019 on to a fantastic Polish team that continues its unstoppable progression and consolidates its advantage over Ukraine. Poland won 3 gold medals, in addition to 5 silvers and 4 bronzes that placed it 3 points ahead of the host team, overturning the classification of the last editions.

With Ukraine consolidated in third position and Romania in fifth, the great advance of this edition corresponded to Lithuania and the Czech Republic, curiously, two countries whose presidents are women (Sandra Martinkiene and Ludmila Cizova) and where men’s traditional strong role within the sport hasn’t stopped them from progressing.

NOTE: Anti-Covid security measures included a 40 sqm stage, where a 2-meter distance between athletes could be maintained at all times. For this reason, the images always show a great empty space between the athletes and the absence of contact between them and the officials who presented the awards.

Impressive level exhibited by the athletes in this Division, in their second only participation in the European Cup. Many new faces among the participants, where only the Ukrainian Yurii Zyymohliad was able to repeat his medal from last year (silver). Again, the current world champion left without the European title, stopped by the man who'd end up as overall champion: the Lithuanian Tautvydas Tumbrotas, with whom he tied in the mandatory poses, but made the title for his better free routine.

Artem Tkach (Ukraine)

After prevailing in the Middle Class, Artem Tkach (Ukraine) was overall champion, by a single point difference (11 to 12 points) over the Polish Damian Dombrowski.
The decline in number of participating athletes due to the Covid-19 pandemic didn’t take intensity away from the title dispute or steal grandiosity from the championships. The consolidation of disciplines such as Fitness, Wellness and Women’s Physique alongside the more established Bikini and Bodyfitness, found a new rival: Fit Model debuted as a discipline in this year’s programme, with Ukraine taking advantage thanks to their experience in this division, adding more medals to their count.

In the absence of Nordic contenders, the athletes from Eastern Europe continued to dominate the competition, led by Ukraine and Poland who presented the most numerous and competitive teams. Along with these two, we must highlight the enormous growth of the Czech Republic, for the first time on the podium, no doubt thanks to the good work done by their national federation, led precisely by a former athlete: Ludmila Cizova. The Czech athletes overtook the always powerful Lithuanian team, who renewed their 4th place from 2019. Croatia took a step forward, led by the current queen of Wellness: the imposing Lara Santini who, even at junior age, seems unattainable to her rivals ever since she won the 2019 World Cup.
Lara Santini (Croatia), overall Wellness champion, was one of the queens of the 2020 European Cup. The current world champion revalidated her 2019 European title and took Croatia to the Top 6 of the participating teams. In this image, with Dr. Santonja and EBFF vice president, José Ramos.

Ranked by President Santonja and the Mayor of Santa Susanna, Joan Campolier, the imposing Lena Ramsteiner (Germany) won the overall Bodyfitness title.

The upturn in the level of participation in the last two years was slowed down by the pandemic, but the new “Artistic Fitness” discipline – without acrobatics – brought a new incentive that will surely pave the way to new athletes in 2022. 2020 JUNIOR EBFF/IFBB EUROPEAN CHAMPIONSHIPS

“Ukraine imposes its great team ahead of Croatia and Poland, both standing out with individual stars”

“Wiktoria Nnaka (Bikini) and Lara Santini (Wellness) were the two grand junior stars who dominated even the senior competition”

THE 2020 JUNIOR EUROPEAN Championships were once again the showcase for the future stars who’ll be dominating the Bodybuilding and Fitness disciplines in the coming years. However, some junior athletes have already crashed the grown-ups’ party and entered the senior competition leaving Santa Susanna as clear and present threats to the reigning elite, should they decide to take the leap to the Professional Division.

This is the case of both Lara Santini (Wellness) and Wiktoria Nnaka (Bikini). True: they didn’t arrive in Santa Susanna as strangers - one is current world champion and the other this year’s European online champion - but both proved to be genuine stars who gave no respite to their rivals and who’d later end up with the gold medal hanging around their neck, also in the overall competition. As of today, both seem to have no rival in their respective disciplines.

Globally, Ukraine reached the first place by teams, supported by its regularity, its better overall team and the titles of athletes such as Maksym Hovberth (Classic Bodybuilding) and Marharyta Doroshenko (Fitness), who allowed them to win by only 1 point over Croatia – whose team has showed impressive progression- and 4 points over Poland. The Czech Republic came in at bronze, confirming its sporting and institutional growth under the leadership of President Ludmila Cizova.

CLASSIC BODYBUILDING

In a very even Division, the details were decisive. From the very beginning, the face-off between Maksym Hovberth and Damir Hajric became clear to the judges. In the mandatory poses, both finished tied at 9 points and only the free routine could decide the battle; and here, the opinion of a single judge gave the title to the 23-year-old Ukrainian athlete.

MEN'S PHYSIQUE

The traditional dominance of the southern European countries in this discipline was confirmed thanks to the Portuguese Tiago Tabuaço, who took advantage of his international experience to take on a complicated category, in which Romanians Iordan Alexandru and Nicolae Trocsei had an outstanding participation, along with the Croatian Marcel Kovacevic.

Hugely attractive to spectators and fans, this discipline served to see the growth of Croatia in women’s sport. Estonia surprised the judges with a future star as is the charming Tiia Kaare. At 23, she proved to be ready for the senior competition, winning overwhelmingly (by 6 points) over her main rivals from the Czech Republic and Romania.

A category dominated with iron grip by Ukraine, whose team was capable of placing 3 athletes in the final and achieving gold and silver. Only Junior veteran Dorottya Agoston, in what is her final year as a Junior athlete, managed to enter the podium with the bronze medal, behind the very promising newcomers Marharyta Doroshenko and Veronika Posenko. The latter, with her spectacular routine inspired by TV-show “Game of Thrones”, received an almost unanimous support of the judges.

THERE ARE COUNTRIES with an inexhaustible array of new talent and there are others that boast extremely long-lived athletes, as is the case of Spain. This year, in the absence of the Caucasians, they had no problem recovering the team gold, supported by athletes such as Lourdes Iñurria, María Simone dos Santos, Jesús Espigares, Guillermo Pérez and Sergio Torres.

The Spanish team ended up taking both gold medals, thanks to athletes Sergio Torres and Guillermo Pérez. Miguel Pozuelo snatched one of the two silver medals, along with the aesthetic Italian Antonio Primiceri. Poland, in its growing line, ended up taking the 2 bronzes available with Rafal Jalowiecki and Andrzej Hurysz.

With the Italian Antonio Damiano repeating his 2019 bronze, the rest of the medals had new holders, one of the highlights being the Czech Roman Hajabac. His bronze honours his progression, in a demanding discipline where the Spanish Jesús Espigares and the Romanian Costin Ilinca took gold and faced each other for continental supremacy.

Along with these two, the Ukrainian Mariia Burlaka was the great star, imposing her youthful 35 years and achieving the overall title.

IN THE MIDDLE of the autumn season, while the Eastern hemisphere was paying close attention to the Diamond Cup India, Europe was focusing on this season’s edition of the DC Rome, organized by the Italian Federation and its President, Mr. Benedetto Mondello, and which is also attended by African, Asian and American athletes.

The 16th and 17th of November, only a few days after the male World Championships and right ahead of the female World Championships, saw a vast number of competitors in great shape crowd to the “Eternal City” for a perfectly organized event. Dr. Rafael Santonja flew from Madrid to Rome with the sole purpose to be present at the event, and to meet here with the many other European executive members who had also gathered for the event.

As goes for sports, the competition made us acquainted with rising stars such as Roberto Remacho (Classic Physique), Karolina Hajkova (Women’s Physique) and Rene Gorol (Bodybuilding), but was also an opportunity for more well-known athletes, such as Rocío Araújo and Alina Yaman (Bodyfitness), Aburas Abuagila (Classic Bodybuilding) or Anna Sorokina and Galina Maslovskaya (Bikini), stars of the 2019 Fitness World Championships, to prove they are here to stay. All in all, it was yet another unforgettable experience in one of the world’s capital cities for Bodybuilding & Fitness.

The event was a huge success to open the 2020 season in Africa, with the participation of close to 700 athletes and an enthusiastic audience that supported the athletes during the competition.

In every category the “Elimination Round” was needed due to the impressive participation of athletes. For the IFBB history books, there was an unprecedented registration of 79 competitors in the Men´s Physique -1.78cm category!

President Santonja traveled from IFBB Headquarters to Cairo, where he was received by Dr. Adel Fahim el Sayed, his Executive Assistant and President of the Arab & Egypt Federations. In a rapidly changing world like the one we live in, some references still endure, and one of them is the ACE. Ongoing for almost a decade, Europe's biggest multi-sports festival again gathered thousands of athletes (over a thousand Fitness and Bodybuilding performers) and tens of thousands of fans, last 19th to 22nd of September.

Spain has become one of the IFBB's main sport venues, thanks to President Santonja and Governor Schwarzenegger. Athletes from all five continents gathered in Barcelona to take part in an event that praises its champions and gives the audience a memorable experience. Therefore, the 2020 edition is already on its way, with new projects and the perspective of maintaining it as the European summit for healthy lifestyle. Aside from its success as a sports event, the 2019 ACE was a new step for the IFBB towards its integration into Olympism. The presence of Mr. Meliton Sánchez, IOC member since 1998, goes to show that Fitness and Bodybuilding are already considered and respected institutionally, thanks to the IFBB's efforts. The future is revealing itself as fascinating, the present already being magnificent, thanks to events like this.

Usain Bolt (Russia; 89 kg and 26 years old) was crowned overall Bodybuilding champion at the 2019 ACE. In the photo, we see him with AFBF president, Mr. Zhang Haifeng, CIO member Mr. Meliton Sánchez and President Santonja.

Mr. William Tierney, with Overall Master Men’s Physique Champion, Khurran Butt (Denmark).
RUSSIA and Ukraine continue to rule over this discipline that seems to have lost popularity amongst the performers, as it kind of appears to be a previous step to Classic Physique.

As none of the specialists from previous editions showed this year, Russia’s Evgeny Shobik (32) surprised everybody by claiming an undisputed victory, thanks to his excellent physique and complete acrobatic skills.

Joined by Mr. Zhang Haifeng and President Santonja, Ukrainian Anton Papezhuk celebrates his Overall Muscular Men’s Physique title.

Lithuanian Tomas Kairys won the Classic Bodybuilding Overall, thanks to his harmonious 178 cm high and nearly 83 kg heavy structure.

Maximum equality in this discipline, as the overall title was decided by 1 single point. Ripped to distinction, Tomas Kairys (Lithuania) claimed the victory, overthrowing his two rivals from the Short and Tall classes.
Without any hallowed icons, the battle for the overall title remained unresolved until the very end between the Top 3, separated by only 3 points.

Russia’s Usein Salimov was finally proclaimed victor ahead of a shredded-as-never-before Anton Ferents, who is also a specialist in the mixed pairs competition.

Salimov, at 89 kilograms only, showed that muscle quality is more important than quantity in the amateur division.

In its second year as official discipline, Classic Physique had a larger number of participants, enabling a total of four classes. The fabulous Austrian Andrej Mandic won the overall after sweeping the Tall Class with perfect scores from the judges.

Driven by the success of the inaugural 2018 edition, the 2019 “Belt & Road” Worldwide Bodybuilding & Fitness Championships held in Xi’an, China, turned out to be yet another social and sports event which contributed not only to boost our sports discipline, but also to widen and strengthen social ties between countries, the same way the Silk Road has united East and West for some two thousand years.

Imperial China’s old capital city is in focus once again, this time around, from Bodybuilding fans from all 199 countries that make up the IFBB, whose President was not about to miss the event. Dr. Rafael Santonja travelled to Xi’an to assist to the championships alongside the Chinese Federation’s (CBBA) authorities, lead by their president, Mr. Zhang Haifeng, who was recently elected president.

THE YEAR 2019’S first rendezvous with the historic city of Tarragona was the 2019 IFBB World Cup, held between the 1st and 4th of November 2019. Athletes from 4 continents attended an event that picked up the torch after the 2018 edition of Cluj-Napoca (Romania), and that was broadcast live on streaming. The IFBB World Cup is already a firmly established competition, that helped 2019 IFBB World Ranking stars the likes of Sidy Pouye (Men’s Physique) or Rocío Araújo (Bodyfitness), champions of their disciplines, to assert their positions, but also helped give rising stars a push, stars such as Valentina Volina (Russia), the only athlete who can boast of having defeated the great 2019 Bikini star, Galina Maslovskaya, this season.

EUROPA ACCELERATES THE LEARNING PROCESS FOR THE NEW ASPIRING STARS

“Borja Serna (Spain), Mohamed Benziane (France), Lorenzo van Hole and Roy de Oliveira (Belgium), and Nikita de Visser (The Netherlands) are the new international bodies to keep an eye on”

THANKS TO SOME momentum courtesy of the 2020 European Cup, the best-in-shape athletes could continue their fight for fame and titles in Luxembourg. This event started in 2018, thanks to the great work of the Luxembourg Federation led by Guy Kridel and Patrizio Vitali. The 1st Bellux Cup held in Munsbach was an enormously attractive event for athletes from Belgium, The Netherlands, Switzerland, France and Germany, who were joined by participants from Spain, Poland, Austria, Romania, Portugal and the Czech Republic, who also ended up having a prominent place in the rankings.

Pawel Wodyk (Bodybuilding), the big star of the Diamond Cup in Malta, achieved a close victory against the promising Lorenzo van Hole (27 years old) who tied with him in the mandatory poses. The Polish athlete will wait until 2021 to enter the Elite Pro Division, despite his victory in Malta. Here, he’ll meet the young Belgian again in excellent shape.

The 2020 IFBB Bellux Cup also left place for many anecdotes that will be remembered over time. Maybe the most striking of them all: the triumph of Borja Serna in Bodybuilding -90 kg. The Spaniard entered the event as a Classic athlete but, seeing as there were no rivals in his class, he did not hesitate to participate in Bodybuilding instead. This proved to be a smart move, as his sensational shape made up for his lack of size and he snatched the gold medal. Then there was the unusual case of Nikita de Visser: the Dutch woman enrolled in Wellness but the judges decided to transfer her to Women’s Physique due to her imposing muscular quality. She couldn’t win against the very complete Aline Beck (Switzerland), but she achieved the silver medal. Both athletes will give a lot to talk about shortly.

Eze Bright (Belgium) won Muscular Men’s Physique and achieved his Elite Pro license. His physique, with the same build as Dmytro Horobets, received a perfect score from the judges.

Luxembourg has discovered fabulous Bodybuilding athletes in previous editions, and this year was no different: Lorenzo van Hade (silver), Pawel Wodyk and Wesley Rogiest (bronze), have a bright future.

Excellent athletes in Women’s Physique: Aline Beck (gold) and Nikita de Visser (silver).

With an average of more than one event per week, the 2019 season proved to be quite the challenge to the IFBB, and a foretaste to what awaits us in 2020. The IFBB has been recognized by the International University Sports Federation (FISU), a new meaningful landmark in the overall frame of recognitions already held by IFBB.

The International University Sports Federation (FISU), is the key driver in expanding the role and reach of university sport worldwide, organizing world-class sports and educational events for university students, being the IFBB very proud to have become one more of its members.

The FISU program is open to all university students and athletes between the ages of 17 and 25 that will be eligible to participate at the World University Championships.

The IFBB World Championships in the Emirates established the historical record of participation in the IFBB World Bodybuilding Championships: 590 athletes of 70 countries. IFBB World Championships held in the Middle East region are usually very popular as our male physique sports are very popular there and the access is much easier for them than if the Championships are held in the other parts of the world. We remember the World Championships in Cairo, Egypt (2002), Manama, Bahrain (2008) and Doha, Qatar (2009). And now the United Arab Emirates with the biggest-ever World Championships. Congratulations to the IFBB President, Dr. Rafael Santonja, for his decision to locate the World Championships in Fujairah and congratulations to the Emirates Bodybuilding and Fitness Federation President, Sheikh Abdullah Bin Hamad Al Sharqi for perfect preparation of the event. National Teams of 70 countries entered the Championships what is also the IFBB historical record, so it can be said that this event was a great success. Regarding medals, 28 countries won medals. During his address to the journalists present during the Congress, Dr. Santonja defended the values of Bodybuilding as a sports discipline and lifestyle choice for millions of young people worldwide. The IFBB President announced five pillars that contribute to strengthen the ever-increasing integration of Bodybuilding into modern society:

- Gender equality. Women have joined this sport in a firm and decisive manner. Right now, the number of sports licenses requested by women has equalled that of men.
- Popularity. There are over 300,000 gym facilities spread over the five continents, without taking into account hotels, universities and military installations. What this means is that Bodybuilding is a sports discipline that can be practiced nearly anywhere on the planet.
- Battle against doping. Working side-by-side with the WADA, the IFBB has made a compromise to keep the sport clean. Cleanness in Bodybuilding is what enables the impressive longevity of many of our performers.
- Sustainability. Bodybuilding doesn’t come with any special requirements that make the sport expensive or difficult to arrange: events can be held in theatres, auditoriums, sports facilities of all kinds, and even on the beach.
- Experience. Inspired by the Olympic heroes, Bodybuilding has not ceased to evolve since the creation of the IFBB in 1946. These days, it is a sports discipline included into an increasing number of important sports events, such as the recent 2019 Pan American Games held in Lima (Peru).

MEET & GREET

2019/2020 BOOK OF THE YEAR

INTERNATIONAL CONGRESS
2019 IFBB ANNUAL CONGRESS

As usual, at the beginning the Congress adopted the Minutes of the previous Congress (2018) and it passed smoothly. Then, IFBB President, Dr. Rafael Santonja, delivered his annual report, discussing all top current matters.

IFBB AND THE OLYMPIC FAMILY
IFBB has already been recognized by most of the IOC continental and regional organizations, including both Americas, Asia, Africa and Oceania. Only Europe has become a challenge. Following recognition, our sports have been included in the regional games:

- Panamerican Games
- Central American Games
- South American Games
- Bolivarian Games
- Asian Beach Games
- Asian Indoor Games (in progression)
- African Beach Games (in progression)
- Pacific Games (in progression)

IFBB has applied to be a member of the International University Sports Federation, what is an important step towards the IOC recognition.

NEW INITIATIVE: WORLD POWER GAMES
To be held under the patronage of GAISF, will include physique, power and strength sports: Armwrestling, Bodybuilding & Fitness, Powerlifting, Tug of War, and Weightlifting. Will take only 4 days and will be a biannual event. The first edition was planned for 2021 but is not sure due to the worldwide pandemic.

CHANGES IN THE IFBB ELITE WORLD RANKING
The Congress approved some important modifications of the Ranking rules:

- Arnold Classic Europe and Arnold Classic Africa have been moved into the second-level events, so the same points will be awarded like at the continental championships.
- CLASSIC BODYBUILDING has been moved one level down to the second level of money awards, same as for Bodyfitness.
- With continuously growing popularity, MEN’S CLASSIC PHYSIQUE has been added to the Ranking sport divisions.
- WELLNESS FITNESS has been moved one level up, with new prize money established separately for this division.
- WOMEN’S PHYSIQUE and WOMEN’S PHYSIQUE: new level of prize money has been established.
- There is a new system of points awarded in case of less than 5 athletes in a category. Athletes will receive less points but will not go back home with nothing. Very fair solution for the athletes.

TYPES OF SPORT EVENTS
IFBB recognizes the following types of events:

- NATIONAL EVENTS – open to national athletes and legal residents.
- INTERNATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIPS – regional, continental and world.
- INVITATIONAL EVENTS – Grand Prix, Diamond Cup, other names. Grand Prix awards will include one Elite Pro Card per overall winner but no points to the Ranking. Open continually. Diamond Cups awards will include up to 3 Pro Cards for overall winners plus points to the Ranking. May be open to all IFBB-affiliated National Federations.

IFBB DISCIPLINARY CODE
This new IFBB official document was presented, discussed and approved. It describes infringements of the IFBB Rules, determine the sanctions incurred and regulate the organization and function of the bodies responsible for taking decisions and the procedures to be followed.

IFBB HALL OF FAME was created and the first 17 stars were qualified to it, mainly Elite Pro world champions and World Ranking winners.
